An organic approach to beauty is what sets this Rittenhouse Studio apart. Owner Ursula Augustine has worked with beauty sensations Bobbi Brown and Francois Nars and has perfected the art of natural beauty—the main focus of each and every treatment at Ursula's About PHace is an organic approach, whether with organic skin rejuvenating facials (using seasonal fruits, organic honey, Greek yogurt) or with vitamin-based cosmetics during a makeup application session. Hair removal with all-natural sugaring techniques and skincare with Augustine's NUTRIcosmetics line keep customers returning again and again for these award-winning treatments that make them feel beautiful and replenished. The staff here understands that the everyday is what really matters—their focus on “looks for real life” helps make every client feel naturally beautiful and youthful on the inside as well as on the surface.
